

If your plants escape beyond your garden they can become invasive, harming our wildlife, environment, and economy

You can help by following three simple tips:

Choose the right plants for your garden, pond, aquarium and water features

Keep your plants in your garden - don't plant them, or allow them to grow, in the wild

Dispose of your unwanted plants, roots, weeds, seeds and seed heads responsibly

Find out more at nonnativespecies.org/beplantwise

