

Remember to dispose of plant waste responsibly

Your plants could become invasive and harm the environment and economy if they spread beyond your garden.

Most plant material can be composted or put in your garden waste bin, but check first as some species have extra controls.

Visit nonnativespecies.org/beplantwise or scan QR code to learn more:

